EASTERN NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Resolution Adopted by the Chamber of Commerce of New York City.

NEW YORK, June 4—The Chamber of Commerce to-day adopted a resolution favoring a liberal and reciprocity treaty between Canada and the United States also one in favor of a change in the revenue laws, simplifying them without decreasing the amount of revenue and recommending specific in stead of ad valorem duties wherever practicable.

Fish for California.

ALBANY June 4—An aquarium car fitted out in New Hampshire to convey fish to California, reached here to-day and this afternoon a steam yacht brought from Seth Green's fishing grounds 36,000 shad and 1,000 eels, just hatched to be put in the car, which leaves to-night.

The Wisconsin Railway Contest

MADISON June 5—In the U S Circuit Court yesterday application was made for an injunction to restrain the Wisconsin Attorney-General and Railroad Commissioners from enforcing the law regulating railroads which was passed at the last session. Attorney-General Shane asked for delay of argument, which the railroad counsel were ready to concede, provided the State authorities should agree they would do nothing prejudicial to the interests of the defendants till the case was decided. This the Attorney General declined to agree, pressing for an early argument even with limited time for preparation. Argument will be postponed to some day—probably about a fortnight hence—to be fixed by Judge Drummond to-day

The Military Situation in Cuba.

NEW YORK June 5.—A Cuban letter says the superior commanders of Spanish forces have been recently coming to Havana for the purpose of conferring with the Captain General. After remaining a few days they return to their command. All this is taken as the Captain General is determined to push things. Advices from Manzanillo say the insurgent bands which it was supposed had left that section, are again making their appearance and it is reported a new raid will be made by them from their fastnesses. The condition of affairs is reported as very bad.

Railway Election.

CHICAGO, June 5—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad and its various branches yesterday the old board was elected without opposition

Fatal Affray Resulting from a Strike

NEW YORK June 5—Peter Smith, a non union man was attacked yesterday by strikers while going from his work and finally in self defense drew a pistol and shot one of his assailants mortally

Shipping Reports.

NEW YORK, June 5—The steamer Alaska sailed to day from Yokohama for San Francisco with a full list of passengers and freight, including 800 tons of tea for New York, via Panama. The steamer China has a full cargo and sails from Hongkong the 4th, and from Yokohama June 22d

WASHINGTON CITY.

The Anti-Polygamy Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 4—It is thought that nothing in want of time will prevent the Senate from passing the anti-polygamy bill which passed the house. The Senate, it will be remembered, passed at the last session a bill looking to the abolition of polygamy much severer in its terms than the present house bill. Those who are therefore most active in securing the latter are pressing it earnestly upon the attention of Senators. The prospective fees of U S officials, real estate combinations, etc seem to cover the greater part of the interest in this new legislation more than any zeal against the Mormon evil

Appropriation for Civil Service Reform.

The Committee on Civil Service Reform have adopted a resolution that they do not recommend any appropriation to carry on the experiment as heretofore conducted. Butler, Luttrell and White were voted yea, Kellogg and Willard of Vermont, nay.

Ben Rises to Explain.

Gen. Butler explains that he did not submit, as a result of the deliberations of the Judiciary Committee, a report recommending a remission of Susan B Anthony's fine but simply that it might be printed for consideration by the Committee.

A member of the Conference Committee on the Finance Bill said to-day that indications continue favorable for an agreement.

The Case of Delegate Cannon to be Postponed.

WASHINGTON June 5—The Committee on Elections by a vote of 6 against 5 agreed not to report the resolution of Hazelton reciting that Delegate Cannon had been proven a polygamist having married several of his wives since the passage of the anti-polygamy law of 1862, and therefore should be expelled. The Committee also voted down a resolution postponing all action in the case but it is generally believed that further consideration of the matter will be postponed till next session.

Bristow Makes a Good Beginning.

CHICAGO June 5—A Washington special says that when it was represented to Gen Bristow that a very strong pressure was being brought to bear to retain [illegible] Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, the Secretary promptly and decisively remarked "If [illegible] does not go I will not remain. We cannot sail in the same ship." The result is that after a hard struggle Sawyer has agreed to resign and has sent an informal letter to that effect to-day. So the last of the Sanborn crowd has finally [illegible]

Still on the Trail of the Contract and Finance Company.

[illegible] June 5—Luttrell made further argument before the House Committee on Pacific Railroads, urging an investigation of the affairs of the Central Pacific Railroad and the Contract and Finance Company. He traversed a number of the arguments of the railroad counsel made last Friday as to the subsidies granted by the Pacific States and defended Brannan from the charge of untruth in the statements of his complaint on which Luttrell's resolution for investigation was based. He called attention to the unanimous vote of the California Legislature and the voice of the press and people demanding the proposed inquiry, and said he could produce hundreds of witnesses in support of his charges provided an investigation be ordered. He showed how readily the House in the last Congress agreed in order to investigate the Credit Mobilier ring of the Union Pacific, also that the Credit Mobilier Committee No [illegible] reported that further investigation of the Central Pacific and Contract and Finance Company's affairs was needed but could not be had for lack of time. Luttrell therefore demanded that the investigation then begun should be resumed till fully completed, in order to protect the rights of the Government and the people and to demand an exhibition of the books of the Company to see whether they had not been defrauded in the application of subsidies. The committee adjourned without intimating what action will be taken.

J P Newmark, $15,183 13, H Lehmann Meyer $0,799 91, Heywood & Hannan $7,303 74, A Wasserman $10,102 48, Rogers Meyer & Co $1,862 12, T B Goytch $26,003 12, G Venard $1,691 02, B Dolgaty $2,752 40, Gultech & Schoeman $4,115 22, J A Folger & Co $8,530 07, I Guett $18,816 06, Thanhauser & Co $4,663 87, Peder Sahr & Co, $2,868 27, B H Ramshill, $2,722 91, J Rosenberg, $1,050 94

At the meeting of the committee of two hundred to arrange for the celebration of the 4th of July held to-night at City Hall, Silas Selleck, whose remarks at a previous meeting about Jesuit emissaries caused such commotion, sent a letter to the committee resigning his position that the enemies of his country might find no fault with him. His resignation was accepted. They then unanimously elected J C Palmer President of the day, and a committee of seven was appointed to canvass the claims and merits of candidates for Grand Marshal to report at next meeting.

The graduating exercises of St Mary's College are being held in Platt's Hall to-night, in the presence of a very large audience.

Weather to-night cold and foggy

Several temperance societies meet to-night to make arrangements for going to Brooklyn to-morrow to take active part in local option election. Their leaders express confidence that the victory of last Saturday at Oakland will be repeated to-morrow

SAN FRANCISCO June 5—D Alva Mosse who shot himself to-day, lingered till 5 o'clock this afternoon and died. He never spoke after the fatal wound was given. He had placed a small mirror in a position to secure the accuracy of his aim. Despondency, caused by long illness, is supposed to be the cause of the suicide

A large meeting of ladies was held at Pacific Hall this evening in aid of the Louisiana sufferers. All arrangements were perfected, and their Fair will be opened at Platt's Hall next Monday

BIG TREES June 5—John Perry, one of the proprietors and manager of the Mammoth Grove Hotel died here at 5:30 to-day. Deceased was aged 57, a native of Newport, R I. He leaves a wife

SAN DIEGO, June 5—The rumor regarding the recapture of the Indian Gordo, was incorrect

SAN JOSE June 5—Victor Speckens, well known in this city as a wine grower, met with a fatal accident at his place about four miles from this city which resulted in the killing of two horses and in mashing Speckens's head so fearfully that death is only a question of time. He was mowing about a quarter of a mile from his house and cutting too close to a bluff thirty feet high he and his team slid off, falling on a pile of boulders and killing the horses instantly. He never spoke a word after the fall. Dr Caldwell attended on him until 5 o'clock this afternoon when he saw he was dying and left him. He leaves a wife and a number of children

LOS ANGELES, June 5—A rumor is current this evening that Gordo, or Jesus Romo, the would-be murderer of the Turner family, was captured this afternoon and hanged by the citizens at El Monte. No further particulars

NORTH SAN JUAN June 5—A fatal accident occurred at Birchville, near this place to-day, by which Pat Farry was killed. He was working at the mouth of a tunnel immediately under a derrick, when a large rock fell from the derrick, striking and killing him instantly. His body was horribly mangled.

LOS ANGELES, June 5—The Herald of to-morrow morning will contain the following which is authentic: "El Monte June 5—Editor Herald: About 8 o'clock this morning we received information concerning the whereabouts of the Mexican who attempted to kill Mr Turner and his wife last Tuesday night and robbed the store at Puente rancho. The news spread like wild fire through the town and all hands rallied, every man who could procure a horse being on hand. A party consisting of thirty men started out. Arriving at the junction of Puente creek with San Gabriel river where we had been informed that Gordo was concealed we surrounded the place and instituted a close search. After looking around about twenty minutes Mr Davidson, one of the party while passing along the bank of the river among bushes and grape vines noticed a thick mass of bushes where a tree had fallen into the stream. He poked his gun into the rubbish by way of investigation, and a man jumped out revolver in hand. Davidson saluted the man with a double-barreled shot gun loaded with buckshot, not being severely wounded the fellow made an attempt to cross the river where there was a thick undergrowth of willows. Davidson then fired on him again when he dropped on his knees and threw up his hands and asked for mercy. All hands were on the spot in an instant. Gordo confessed his crime, and showed us where he had the stolen money, all of which we recovered except $6 50. Afterwards he went with us to the house where the crime was committed and was identified by Turner and his wife. He said he committed the deed for money and besides this had no confession to make. By this time he was becoming quite weak from two loads of buckshot which he received. We think it doubtful if he could have lived more than twenty-four hours longer. Constable B S Bryant took him in charge and started for Los Angeles. Shortly after leaving the place the constable was overtaken by several masked men who took possession of prisoner and wagon. The party drove beneath a large sycamore tree and while passing under the tree a rope was thrown over the prisoner's neck, he caught upon a limb and he was choked to death.

N B—He still hangs there. The scene of the accident is near Mr W [illegible] mill, about three miles from Mr Temple's residence. No cost to the State or county.

NEVADA.

[illegible] June 5—At a citizens' meeting, called last night at the court house to adopt measures to prevent the further spread of smallpox and also to make provision for those already infected a resolution was adopted asking the Central Pacific R R Co to contribute liberally towards defraying expenses incurred by the sanitary officer as they are directly responsible for its introduction here. One death occurred from the disease day before yesterday. The schools have been closed until the disease abates, and considerable business depression is also felt in consequence. Up to the present time there have been [illegible] cases, two proving fatal, with [illegible] being quarantined. Houses and all houses have been [illegible] with chloride of lime and every precaution taken to prevent its spreading further

[illegible] June 5—Further particulars received this evening from Belmont of the hanging of McIntyre and Waller at that place on Wednesday night show that men have been in jail on [illegible] charges but had broken jail and escaped. They were recaptured and again lodged in jail on the morning of the date of their execution. Both men are said to have been desperadoes. Waller shot and killed a man in a hurdy-gurdy house at Belmont a few weeks ago and McIntyre had the reputation of being a [illegible] expert

THE SCARLET WOMAN.

THE NOTORIOUS VICTORIA WOODHULL AIRS HER PECULIAR DOCTRINES AND [illegible] A TRIBUTE OF HISSES.

[From S F Chronicle June 2.]

At half past 7 o'clock last evening Mrs Woodhull's audience began to file into Platt's Hall. By 8 o'clock most of the seats were filled. The crowd consisted mainly of the sterner sex though a few female—mostly elderly women with specs and incorruptible aspect—were sprinkled here and there like daisies in a grass plat. The boxes in the gallery were filled with a curious social mixture of judges, lawyers, brokers, editors and men about town, who had come prepared to listen to Mrs Woodhull and hear with forbearance all she had to say but it was determined not to listen to anything else. It could stand Woodhull but it couldn't stand

BLOOD.

At about 8 o'clock the gallant Colonel—Colonel Blood—got up with an enormous red rose in his button hole, and said

"I desire to say to the audience——" [Applause which drowned the Colonel's voice."

I desire to say to the audience that Mrs Woodhull's speeches can be had——" [Loud and stunning applause.]

The Colonel—I wish to say, if the audience will permit me——[Laughter, pounding and cries of "Louder"]

The Colonel—Mrs Woodhull's lectures can be had at the door immediately——[Thundering applause, which continued some minutes.]

The Colonel (appealingly)—If the audience will listen to me a moment——[Great applause and cries of Dry up Blood.]

The Colonel (desperately)—Mrs Woodhull will lecture here—[Tremendous applause]—to-morrow—[Fierce demonstrations]—night!—[Whistles, screeches and cat-calls.]

Here the Colonel with a magnificent red red rose in his button hole subsided into his seat, and Miss Zula Woodhull daughter of the lecturess a young miss of thirteen, appeared and recited in quite a creditable manner James Russell Lowell's poem, "The Present Crisis."

ENTER THE WOODHULL.

At the conclusion of this performance Mrs Woodhull glided in from one of the wings and bowed to the assemblage. She was arrayed in black silk trimmed with jet and fluting. She wore a little stand-up linen collar, white linen cuffs with jet sleeve buttons and jet chain. Her short hair was thrown back over her brow and her cheeks were flushed or else very scientifically rouged. The audience received her first ten minutes' remarks with evident approbation. But a very profane allusion here brought out

A STORM OF HISSES.

Which rather startled the Woodhull and irritated her into saying severe and biting things to those who led off in the uproar. The lecture was, "Reformation or Revolution—Which? or, A Glance Behind the Political Scenes." For an hour she stuck to her subject pretty well, and though her remarks on the political situation were not particularly interesting to a California audience, still they were patiently received and save in the instance noted the lecturer was politely treated

A FEARFUL TOST OF WOODHULLISM

After the first hour however to the astonishment of the incorruptible elderly ladies in black bombazine and specs Mrs Woodhull glided off the political stage and sailed into the discussion of the doctrines peculiar to herself. Marriage and all matters connected with it, were handled with a freedom of diction and singularity of style which

STARTLED THE AUDIENCE

And brought blushes to the cheeks of the reporters. Mrs Woodhull is an eloquent speaker, and is evidently in earnest, and it was this perhaps that prevented her hearers from giving a more marked expression of their disapprobation than a few more hisses. Some of her ideas were doubtless good and could they be engrafted upon society, society would be the better for them, but no people however tolerant, could well be expected to listen to the exposition of these doctrines in such language as that employed by the lecturess in the closing passages of her speech. It was simply indecent.

It was reported in Dallas that the house of Mrs Waymire (the widow of Fred Waymire) was burned Wednesday evening about dusk and parties started out from town to learn particulars. The Waymire farm is some miles from town, and "Aunt Fanny" resided there almost alone. It was rumored and feared that she was burned with the house

Two years ago Thomas Pearce ran for Justice at Dallas and was tied with his opponent. The law directs the casting of lots to decide and Mr Pearce won with luck. The contestants gambled for it according to law, and they are likely to resort to the same expedient again, as Mr Pearce and another opponent are tied again on the vote there for Justice of the Peace. This is a significant thing, to happen twice to the same man

The Bellingham Bay Mail referring to this new county, which was last winter set off from Whatcom says: After San Juan's six months sojourn she is in possession of a complete outfit of books and stationery, with a good iron safe to keep them in, and after providing for other expenses incident to the administration of county affairs she has now in the treasury nearly $400 which is held subject to the order of Whatcom county, as part payment on the $1,000 indebtedness which San Juan assumed on going out, besides a delinquent list of over $400, most if not all of which the Sheriff is confident of collecting—all from personal property and improvements on ranches to which titles have not been acquired

OUR DEBT.

Some weeks ago, in an article on the resumption of specie payment the Journal stated that on as accurate a calculation as the data at command then afforded the debts of the United States, the debts of the States, counties, cities, towns, townships and school districts, the railroad, canal, and corporation indebtedness of all kinds, together with the individual and firm indebtedness of every description in the United States, amounted in round figures, to $10,000,000,000. This utterly incomprehensible sum was deemed by some to be extravagantly large and entirely unworthy of credit.

Some days ago Hon Abraham Comingo, a member in Congress from the State of Missouri, in a speech in the House of Representatives, adverting to the debts of the country submitted the following tabulated statement which he declared was within the limits of actual correctness as far as he had been able to ascertain after careful and accurate inquiry

Our national debt proper	$[illegible]
Bonds to railway companies	[illegible]
Interest on bonds	[illegible]
Unsettled liabilities (estimated)	250,000,000
State and municipal	1,000,000,000
Loans etc by national banks	[illegible]
Loans etc. by banks etc	[illegible]
Loans etc by same in U S States etc. (estimated)	1,400,000,000
Individuals to each other etc (estimated).	2,000,000,000
Funded etc of railroads	[illegible]
Making a total of	$[illegible]

It will be seen that Mr Comingo gives the total at less than $17,000,000 of the sum named by the Journal.

The figures of Mr Comingo as to the funded debts of railroads is a mistake by at least $1,000,000,000, if not more. Hon D C Cloud of Iowa in his book entitled "Monopolies and the People" in a laborious and careful inquiry into the whole subject gives the sum total of the funded railroad debts of the United States as $2,800,000,000 or $1,400,000,000 more than given by Mr Comingo

The Journal is of the opinion that its own statement is perhaps somewhat below the true amount of all classes of indebtedness upon which interest averaging 8 per cent is paid, or expected to be paid

Assuming that we have in the United States and Territories 40,000,000 of population, the average indebtedness of each, allowing our statement to be correct is $250. The interest on this vast debt at 8 per cent per annum is $800,000,000 or $20 for every man, woman and child in the country. Assuming again that the average number of human beings in each family in the nation to be five, the head of each family on an average pays $100 tax per annum on debts alone. In addition to this interest is to be paid the cost of being governed including the salaries of those who govern us from that of the President at $50,000 per annum down to the Postmaster in the country village at $2 50 per quarter or $10 per year and the ordinary and contingent expenses of the Government. The burden, National and State, is the average amount to about the same as the interest on debt, thus the interest on what we owe and [illegible] governed we pay per capita per annum $40, and for every family $200 or a total of [illegible] within $[illegible] of the National debt.

It is quite safe to say that the average cost of living, together with clothing, excluding all luxuries in drink, food and dress [illegible] human being [illegible] per week [illegible] hence the sum necessary to support 40,000,000 of people is [illegible] So that [illegible] the [illegible] interest and [illegible] be governed, there is to be provided for each human [illegible] some [illegible] other that which is [illegible] their present [illegible] and by the [illegible] of farm [illegible]. What [illegible] the sum [illegible] some form directly or indirectly to increase the cost of life [illegible] the wealth of the general public.—Ill [illegible] Journal.

ATTORNEY GENERAL WILLIAMS QUESTIONED.—A Washington dispatch of May [illegible] says: In the District Investigation Committee to-day Attorney General Williams appeared and denied that the funds were paid at the [illegible] of the Board of Public Works to the contractor who had the work [illegible] upon a mutual understanding with Williams that the dirt he claimed [illegible] should be [illegible]. Documents of the Board of Public Works were however produced showing that some portion of the work done was paid for by the Board. The contractor who did the work was called and testified that he removed from Attorney General Williams' lots 6,000 cubic yards for which he had paid him $100, and that upwards of $500 were still due. Both [illegible] and Williams had [illegible] failed to [illegible]

PHILADELPHIA'S PROJECT.

THE CENTENNIAL SCHEME, ITS PROGRESS, AND WHAT IT WILL COST

A dispatch from Philadelphia, May 24, says the following is the final and conclusive decision of the international centennial commission and finance committee. The commission state the present condition of affairs as follows

1 Bids are to be opened for contracts for the execution of an art gallery and museum on Tuesday next and it is expected that work will be commenced in a few days. The building to cost $1,500,000 of which sum there has been appropriated for that purpose by the State of Pennsylvania $1,000,000, and by the city of Philadelphia $500,000. The building will cover over one and a half acres of ground

2 The immediate erection of a conservatory hall at a cost of $200,000 and for this purpose an appropriation has been made by the city of Philadelphia without any other restriction than the requirement that the money shall be expended for this building. The plans cover the space of 1½ acres of ground

3. The machine hall is estimated at a cost of $800,000 which has been provided for by direct appropriation by the city of Philadelphia free from restriction and entirely available for the purpose. Work on this building will commence some months hence, but in ample time to have it completed for use by the commission. It will cover 10 acres of ground, at a cost not to exceed $80,000 per acre

4. The erection of the main exhibition building will be commenced as soon as the plans are perfected. This can probably be accomplished by the last of June. This building is to cover a space of about 20 acres at a cost not to exceed $100,000 per acre. Stock subscriptions to the work are applicable, which making due allowance for losses now amounts to about $1,800,000, leaving but $200,000 yet to be provided for the purpose

5 An agricultural hall is to be provided for to cover about five acres of ground, and to cost about $250,000, grading, draining, water and railroad connections, etc, say $1,000,000, general administration, say $[illegible],000, for errors in estimates and for contingencies, say $875,000

Total expenditures exclusive of art gallery and annex can [illegible] $[illegible],020,000 of which the city of Philadelphia has appropriated direct and without reservation except in designation of particular buildings upon which the amount shall be expended $1,000,000. Actual subscriptions $1,800,000. Left to be provided for $[illegible],000 which amount the board of finance have no doubt of being able to raise from the people and from the general government

Statements heretofore submitted by the board of finance were based on buildings of the character which was indicated by the commission but under the present circumstances the committee deem it wise that the buildings should be of a simple character and on this basis this report is submitted

LINCOLN'S RELIGIOUS BELIEF

Mr W H Herndon, of Springfield, Illinois, having recently made another effort in the form of a public lecture to prove that Abraham Lincoln was not a believer in the Christian religion Mr B F Irwin an intimate personal and political friend of the martyr President publishes in the Illinois State Journal a lengthy discussion of the subject Mr Irwin presents the written testimony of several persons who were intimately acquainted with Mr Lincoln from early manhood down to the time of his leaving Springfield for Washington after his election as President, and the weight of their testimony is that in early life at least he was a Universalist Mr Irwin does not pretend to state with certainty whether in later years Mr Lincoln's views underwent a change but is satisfied from many passages in his public and private papers and speeches that he was never as has been asserted by many an infidel In regard to a manuscript prepared by Mr Lincoln about 183[illegible], and which was reported after his death to have been an attack upon the Christian religion Mr Irwin is convinced that so far from an attack it was a defense of the Christian religion And in support of this opinion he calls upon the stand Mr Graham who was Lincoln's teacher at the time who testifies that he saw the manuscript, had it in his possession eight or ten days read it over carefully several times, and knows that it was in favor of Christianity and universal salvation In further evidence on this point Mr Irwin says

> Mr Mostiller says Lincoln flatly denied infidelity in 18[illegible] and he would swear to it Mr Harnett heard Lincoln on the atonement in 1858 Mr Cogdal testifies to the same in 18[illegible] The character of all these men for truth and veracity is as good as any man in Sangamon or Menard county Harnett and Mostiller are both Methodists differing politically Graham and Cogdal are both Universalists and agree politically

Mr Herndon having stated that this manuscript was destroyed by Samuel Hill a relative of Mr Lincoln's, and intimated that the object of its destruction was to make way with the evidence of Lincoln's disbelief of the Christian religion, Mr Graham is inquired of on that point and he states that the paper destroyed by Hill was not the manuscript referred to, but a private letter in regard to a lady, Miss Ann Rutledge

Immediately following Mr Irwin's communication, the Journal inserts the letter of William Reid, Esq, U S Vice Consul at Dundee Scotland to the OREGONIAN, published last April, in which Mr Reid very clearly shows that the idea that Mr Lincoln was not a believer in the Christian religion, is wholly erroneous The evidence presented by Mr Irwin and Mr Reid seems to be entirely conclusive

WILL THEY COMPROMISE?

A Washington dispatch says the probabilities are that the President and Congress will be able to come to an agreement upon the financial question What is the basis of this proposed agreement does not transpire It can hardly be that the President is going to surrender to the inflationists. The message giving his reasons for vetoing the inflation act committed him to sound currency too strongly to admit of his going back now It is not easy to perceive how he could consent to any scheme for expanding the currency in face of these brave sentences so recently uttered by him

> The theory in my belief is a departure from the true principles of finance national interest, national obligations to creditors Congressional promise party pledges on the part of both the political parties and of the personal views and promises made by me in every annual message sent to Congress and in my inaugural address

If all the reasons condensed by the President into this brief passage, for withholding his signature from the bill, do not form a sufficient foundation for him to stand upon and resist all overtures of all parties looking to a different course of action from that hitherto pursued by him, it is impossible to imagine what it would take to form such a foundation To turn his back on the sound currency principle now would be turn his back on the country, on the pledges upon which he was elected President, on himself This he cannot afford to do

Every one who has studied the political history of this government will agree with us that no good ever comes to the country from a definite and irreconcilable hostility between the President and Congress Amid the strife and contention that inevitably arises out of such a state of affairs the true interests of the people are apt to be lost sight of It is therefore very desirable that harmonious relations shall exist between the President and Congress on this vital question But if such relations can be brought about only through a surrender by the President of the great principle of faithfulness to the pledges of himself and the obligations of his party and at a sacrifice of his conscientious convictions of sound policy it were better that no compromise should be effected

POWDER FOR US

Hon. Geo W Lawson, in this morning's OREGONIAN, after expressing his regret at the failure of the Independents to carry their State ticket through in which regrets we join him most cordially, proposes to "burn powder with the Democrats over the grave of the dead Republican party"

If our old friend thinks he would enjoy that entertainment we do not know as anybody has the right to say him nay but for our part we will be excused We have received no invitation to be present at the occasion of this [illegible] burning, and were we invited we should feel compelled to decline We have no reliable evidence that the Republican party in Oregon is dead It has been ill for a long time with a disease that has been eating out its vitals, and recently it has been subjected to some decidedly heroic treatment at the hands of its truest friends But this it is hoped may result in eradicating the causes of the disease which consist of ballot-box corruptions convention frauds domination of Federal officials prostitution of itself to railway rings, wasteful expenditure of the people's money disregard of its acknowledged obligations overriding of the will of the people and the laws of the land and hundred crimes and misdemeanors If these things which for some time past have been rotting out the heart of the organization can be removed we see no reason why it should not rally and be strong again The treatment it has just received has thrown it into uncertainty, and no one can now say positively what the end may be but we hardly believe but that it has vitality enough left in it to survive provided always that the process of eradicating the disease has been effectual and thorough

In the next place if it shall turn out that the Republican party is not merely in a comatose state but has actually given up the ghost, then instead of rejoicing at its death we cannot but weep over its grave If any political party has ever deserved to be remembered with gratitude after its demise it is the Republican party We burn no powder now

Furthermore when we get ready to burn the powder of rejoicing over the death of a party, we hope not to do so in company with another party that might have been dead long ago without injury, if not with positive advantage to the country We hope some day to be permitted to burn powder along with all good Independents over the grave of Bourbonism in this country, but the time for that has not yet arrived

THE OREGON PIONEERS

The Oregon Pioneer Association will hold its Annual Reunion at Aurora on Tuesday the 16th inst The programme will embrace addresses by Hon S F Chadwick, His Excellency L F Grover His Honor M P Deady and other distinguished gentlemen There will be ample preparations made for the accommodation of three thousand persons The reunion will conclude with a grand ball in the evening Arrangements have been perfected with the O S N Co the W R T Co, and both railway companies by which those attending the reunion will be charged only half fare The O & C R R Co will provide a special evening train for the occasion, to bring persons home who live north of Aurora

The various papers of the country are requested by the managing agent of the Reunion to publish notice thereof as it is a matter in which many people all over the State will feel an interest

NEW PUBLICATIONS

The American Corporation Cases By Thomas F Withrow [illegible] A L Bancroft & Co San Francisco

The law of corporations has risen vastly in importance within the last few years Although it can hardly be affirmed that the growth of corporations and the multiplication of questions arising out of their relations to society have introduced any new principles into legal science they have certainly called for new and often difficult applications of old principles to new facts The two volumes before us contain the decisions of the Supreme and Circuit Courts of the United States and the courts of last resort of the several States of the Union on questions relating to corporations since January 1 1868 and present such a collection of decisions peculiar to that subject as can be found nowhere else An examination of the work will show that the decisions of the courts on many points have been anything but uniform, and that the law in many respects in an uncertain state The work of collecting and arranging these cases has been carefully thoroughly and skillfully done and the mechanical execution of the volumes is of the best [illegible] corporations no practicing lawyer can afford to be without this late and [illegible] collection of precedents on so important a branch of the law

THE ELECTION IN SALEM

POLITICAL GOSSIP AND OTHER INTERESTING MATTERS

[FROM OUR REGULAR SALEM CORRESPONDENT]

SALEM June 4 1874

To the Editor of the OREGONIAN

The great political battle of Oregon has been fought and many of the [illegible] two thirds of those who were anxious to [illegible] make extravagant bets but they did not find many who had the courage to meet them [illegible] members of Legislature etc [illegible] The election passed off very quietly without any brawls or any [illegible]

The Democrats had things well arranged and a strict watch was kept over their rebel [illegible] subject and if they were inclined to vote independently they were spotted and punished according to their sins Some six or eight were discharged from the State Capitol on Tuesday because as the friends say they did not vote the ticket The Superintendent says it was because they were not there at the hour to commence work But then it may the people generally will believe that the men told the truth [illegible]

GRAND TORCHLIGHT PROCESSION

So I am informed but the [illegible] which party will [illegible] If Gov Grover is elected it will be a Democratic procession and they say the Independents will join them and it will be a big thing because they wanted Tolman beaten while if Mr Tolman is elected they claim that the Independents will join them and it will be a grand affair as the Independents wanted Gov Grover beaten But if Mr Campbell is elected it will be simply a rousing affair stupendous in fact The Republicans [illegible] Gov Grover up Salt River and glad [illegible] beaten and the Democrats swear they will in turn burn all the needful powder to blow Mr Tolman away up Salt River and rejoice with the Independents that they won the victory if they did lose one half of the battle Now if the returns can be so manipulated that the Independent can carry the election why we will simply have a grand and glorious torchlight procession such as has not been witnessed in these many days [illegible] It will not require more than [illegible] fifteen hundred votes [illegible] Which is nothing I am told to arrange in some States or cities for instance New York City

To-morrow the surveying party starts from this city across the Cascade mountains south of Mt Jefferson to ascertain whether a practicable route can be discovered for a wagon road This subject was considerably discussed last winter but the party had not been organized until a few days since They expect to be gone some two weeks

From reports there is every reason to believe that the wheat crop this year will be equal if not superior to that of last year and equally as abundant 47

THE BATTLE OVER

SALEM June 5 1874

To the Editor of the OREGONIAN

[illegible]—we came we saw and we didn't conquer but with the opposing legions we shall camp on the battle ground wherein I prefer ballots to bullets and stump speeches to cannon Still if I ever shall make an effort to reach Congress I think I shall try it on the La Dow patent mattress and [illegible] canvass Think how his opponents must feel [illegible] as they learn that after all their mussing wrangling parting [illegible] their grand Ciceronian eloquence and effort La Dow's silence pleased the people best We could not blame his distinguished opponents if they were to swear they would never open their mouth to the people again

[illegible]

Our battle is gained The offices were not so much to us as the effects Holladay and his minions are routed The metropolitan city [illegible] The [illegible] is purged The Democratic victors are warned If we have not the law making power in the Legislature we have that which is called the balance of power

[illegible]

So much under the Governor elect Mr Grover in his great Opera House speech at Salem when he started out on the canvass boldly proclaimed himself in favor of the passage of law fixing maximum rates of freights and fares upon railroads of compelling the owners to fence the roads and of giving local jurisdiction for damages to the farmers along the route wherein Mr Grover identified with this forward movement of all the people who are opposed to monopoly in the navigation of the great inland [illegible] of America to wit The [illegible] routes of travel and transportation which having been called [illegible] by the Almighty or invented by man on the outside have become to the continent what great steamships are to the ocean sources of navigation whither and when the people please

[illegible]

Perhaps it is best for us to go down in the [illegible] field [illegible]

these two joined in the strike and now all the shops in town have their shutters up and crape upon the door knobs while a few bear inscriptions announcing that the owners propose to fight it out on that line if it takes all summer Those of the Tillinites who do not live by bread alone, have to resort to fish and salt meats to piece out their repasts

SATURDAY MORNING, JUNE 6, 1874

CITY.

BELLS.—The occasion of Portland receiving the large fire bell weighing over two thousand pounds gives us opportunity to say something about large bells in general that may be of interest to our readers. When we call this a large bell it is, of course, only by comparison with the smaller bells our city has hitherto possessed. The really large bells of the world go up into tons, and hundreds of thousands. There is a bell in Vienna that weighs 40,000 pounds, and one in Rouen France weighing 36,000 pounds was subsequently cast into cannon. [illegible] the pro- which the first bell in Trinity Church in this city was [illegible]. The largest Westminster (England) bell weighs 30,000 pounds. The largest bell in America is [illegible] in the Cathedral at Montreal and weighs about 29,000 pounds. But these are all small compared with the great bell of Moscow, the largest bell known in the world, which has the enormous weight of 400,000 pounds and is said to have cost, with the precious jewels added by the nobles at the time of its casting, $1,300,000. It is 21 feet in height and [illegible] feet in diameter. Immense as this bell is, it is said that a larger one has recently been discovered in Japan. This is a possible thing as the bells of China [illegible] those of Russia in size, and quite exceed them in the [illegible] of their sound. On one of the Church bells of England are [illegible] inscriptions which serve to show the religious feeling, superstition or amusing sentiment prevailing at different times and places. On a bell in Derbyshire is the following:

Mankind like me are often found
Possessed of nought but empty sound

On a fire bell in Sherborne.—

Lord, quench this furious flame
Arise, run, help put out the same

While then we welcome this guardian of our property to our city, we can only say that we trust its startling tones may seldom be heard among us, and that it may long hang in its watch-tower in silence and neglect.

RUNAWAY.—A very animated runaway took place yesterday in the northern part of the city. The animal, which by the way, has a chronic disposition to run away at every opportunity, was attached to a grocer's wagon, and being left unguarded for a moment concluded to try his old trick. Away flew the horse followed at a respectable distance by the driver, who bellowed at the top of his lungs, "Whoa, whoa!" but the animal failed to see it, and continued on. Coming to a cross street, the horse turned up and began to shake off the dust from his heels more lively than ever. Brilliant but very brief proved the race for the horse ran against the corner of a fence which stood on the edge of a steep embankment, and brought affairs to a hasty termination. Two wheels were smashed in a trice, the shafts both shivered and the vehicle otherwise damaged. The wagon halted for repairs, but the horse went on over the embankment. Portions of the harness caught on the projections of the fence, and thus left the equine dangling in mid air. Fortunately the driver came up soon after and extricated the beast from its position of danger by cutting the harness, and allowing the animal to roll down to the foot of the almost perpendicular embankment. Fifty dollars, the blacksmith thinks, will repair all damages.

SUMMER RESORTS.—During the oppressive heat of summer, a desire to keep cool induces many persons to leave the interior valleys and towns and migrate to the sea shore for indulgence in bathing, fishing, rowing, sailing or driving—a sort of annual rejuvenating process which often adds years to the length of human life. Our city people and many in towns up the Valley are becoming quite metropolitan in this regard. We are informed that the facilities for getting to the coast were never better, especially to the Sound. A large number have already made short excursions there this season and are going there every week. To add to the other considerations favorable the N. P. R. R. Co. propose soon to issue tickets at low rates over the railroad and on the steamers to Olympia, Steilacoom, Tacoma, Seattle, Port Madison, Port Gamble, Port Ludlow, Port Townsend and Victoria and return. Tickets, good for probably thirty or more days, offering a splendid opportunity to the many who have never seen the towns and harbors, the numerous lakes and trout streams of Washington Territory. All the places named above except Madison, Gamble and Ludlow (which have one each) have from three to five hotels besides many private houses.

TRIED AND DISCHARGED.—Charles McLaughlin, who was tried in Police Court yesterday morning, on the charge of assaulting an officer, was acquitted and discharged. The ground on which McLaughlin was acquitted was that he regarded himself as a peace officer, and was simply endeavoring to keep the peace and had no intention of committing the assault charged against him. Judge Denny, in the course of his remarks, expressed the opinion that the Sheriff has no authority of law to appoint more than one deputy.

ARRESTED FOR LARCENY.—An individual named H. S. Franklin was arrested yesterday morning, charged with the larceny of a pistol from a man named Kelsay, who lives near Oswego. Franklin on being arraigned in Police Court, entered a plea of not guilty. On motion of the attorney the case was continued until this morning in order to enable both the defendant and the State to procure witnesses. This morning the case will be examined into.

LEG INJURED.—A few days since a man named Hansen while engaged as a deck hand upon one of the little tug boats on the river, met with a severe accident. Accidentally his right leg slipped between the guard of the tug and a scow as the boat was swinging out in the stream. As a natural consequence the limb was severely crushed, although no bones were broken. The injured limb received the necessary medical attention.

EAST PORTLAND PARK.—The East Portland Band will discourse the following programme at the Park to-morrow: Grand March "Rheinhart," "Der Nacht will Neider-nker," Abt, "National Melodien Quadrille," E. Shener; "Herzen Waltz," E. Strauss; Album Blutten Potpourri, A. Beedel; Polka Mazurka, Neidlich "Rheinlander," A. Neibig; Bright Eyes,—Galop, Shuman.

NEW WHARF.—For several days a pile driver has been employed at the northern end of Central wharf. The intention is to make an addition to the present wharf. Work will be pushed vigorously forward, and it is thought by [illegible] that the new wharf will be finished and ready for the reception of [illegible] in a [illegible] time.

NEW LINE.—The work of constructing the new telegraph between Roseburg and Yreka is progressing rapidly. [illegible] men are engaged in its construction, under the immediate direction of Mr. R. [illegible]. At last accounts the new line was completed as far as Canyonville, twenty-seven miles south of Roseburg.

TEMPERANCE MEETING.—The [illegible] Temperance services will be held to-morrow (Sabbath) evening at [illegible] on the Taylor M. E. Church. [illegible] Mr. Gordon will address the meeting. [illegible] are invited.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.—The [illegible] A. M. the Teachers' Institute for this School District will convene at the Central School. All teachers are [illegible] who [illegible] public school are expected to be present.

The financial fight for the various offices is over and the returns are [illegible]. Some think the result will be in favor of the Democratic ticket, [illegible] but it is certain that FISHEL & ROBERTS are leading in the [illegible] supremacy in this particular line of business. FINAL EXAMINATIONS AT THE BISHOP SCOTT GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

The final examinations of the pupils of the Bishop Scott Grammar and Divinity School were held on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday last. The examinations of Wednesday and Thursday were written and as [illegible] are informed were very satisfactory to the head master and other teachers, and highly creditable to the pupils.

On Friday the examinations were oral, and to these the friends of the pupils and the public generally were invited. In the morning and afternoon the boys in each department of the school were rigidly and critically examined in the different branches of English studies, in mathematics, and in modern and ancient languages, and they acquitted themselves remarkably well, showing that the care and attention of their teachers and their own efforts have borne fruit. It is to be regretted that more of the parents and friends of the boys were not present at these important and interesting exercises. In the evening of Friday the exercises included the [illegible] of the prize essay, speaking for the Deady prize, the Headmaster's report, the Rector's address, and the awarding of the prizes to the successful contestants.

At half past 7 the large school room of the Senior department was opened and quickly filled by a large number of many of our best citizens. The room was densely crowded. The exercises were opened with the reading of the essay on "The Early History of the Latin Church," by H. Rodney Morris, to which was awarded the second prize.

It may be remarked that it was announced at the close of the preceding term of the Bishop Scott School as the subject of essays to be written upon by the scholars of 1874-5, the best written essay to receive a prize of $10 and the second best a prize of $5. The first prize was awarded to W. J. McEwan, and the second to H. Rodney Morris. Both these essays were very good indeed, the subject having been carefully considered and the matter unusually well put together. They reflect great credit upon the worthy competitors. After the reading of this essay the contest for the Deady prize, which was founded by Judge Deady for excellence in declamation. For this, one of the pupils contested in such excellent style that the awarding of the prize was a work of no little difficulty. The judges to whom the decision was referred were the Bishop, the Rev. Mr. Burton, the Rev. Dr. Rosenberg, the Rev. John Sellwood and Arthur Cristfield, Esq.

After each of the young gentlemen had spoken the judges retired and after mature deliberation decided to award the prize, an elegant gold medal in the shape of a Maltese cross, of the value of $20, to Geo. W. Upton, who delivered in most admirable style a portion of Webster's reply to Hayne. It is but fair to state that the declamations of E. N. Deady, W. Jackson, L. A. Goodnough and David Robertson were considered very meritorious by the Judges.

After the speaking for the prize was over the Headmaster read an able and interesting report of the work and condition of the school during the past year. From it we learn that the attendance has been 80 pupils, 25 of whom were boarders, 57 day scholars. That the library contains over 1,000 volumes; that the philosophical apparatus is fully equal to that of any other school in the State, and the general condition of the school has been very good.

After the Headmaster's report had been read the Essay, already alluded to by W. J. McEwan, which took the first prize, was read. This production was unusually good indeed, would have done credit to a graduate of any of our Eastern and widely famed colleges.

The Rector's address was then read by the Rector the Right Rev. Bishop Morris and listened to with great interest and attention, which it fully merited. It has never been our good fortune to hear an address more appropriate to the occasion and the audience.

The exercises now concluded with the delivery of the prizes to those to whom they had been awarded. We give below a list of these with the names of those who received them:

Trinity Medal, W. J. McEwan; Deady Medal, Geo. Upton; Wilson Prize, A. L. Goodnough; Bishop Scott Prize, A. L. Goodnough; Rector's Prize, Allan Lewis. Annual Prizes—1, W. J. McEwan; 2, H. R. Morris; 3, Wesley Jackson.

Primaries—A Grade—general proficiency—1, A. Lewis; 2, A. McEwan. B Grade—general proficiency—1, Davis Burnside; 2, Jas. S. Goldsmith.

Special Prizes—For Greek, A. L. Goodnough; Latin, A. Beck and Frank G. Lilinger—equal.

AMUSEMENTS.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock a matinee performance will be given at the theater. The performance will consist of a sparkling comedy, a Protean farce, and an interlude in which Mrs. Morgan, the favorite balladist, will appear. The bill is an excellent one and will doubtless attract a crowded house. "Pyke O'Callaghan," the great Irish drama, will be presented this evening for the first time. The entertainment gives promise of being one of superior excellence and we trust that it may meet with deserved patronage. Again we would urge our citizens to support Madame Phelps and her really excellent troupe. The matinee will afford the little folks an opportunity, and parents should remember and not fail to embrace it.

PICNICS.

Inclement weather has again rendered it necessary to postpone the picnic of the Presbyterian Sunday School. This picnic was to have been given to-day near Aurora, but it has been deemed expedient to defer it for one week. Next Saturday, weather permitting, the picnic will come off.

To-day the Sunday Schools connected with the Baptist and Congregational Churches of this city were to have given their picnic at the grounds near Oswego. The continued unsettled state of the weather has rendered it necessary to postpone the affair for one week. Should the weather prove pleasant and agreeable, the picnic will come off next Saturday.

SPECIAL CHURCH NOTICES.

Services of the Church of Christ will be held at the corner of Madison and First streets, to-morrow at 11 o'clock A. M. Elder M. M. Norton will officiate. Subject—"The Gospel Covenant."

"Why ought we to have a Sabbath?" will constitute the subject of Mr. Medbury's discourse at the Baptist Church to-morrow morning. There will be no service in the evening at that church.

The evening service at the Unitarian Church to-morrow is omitted. The Communion Service will be held in the forenoon immediately after the morning service, and the Sunday School convenes at a quarter before 1 o'clock.

The wife of Mr. J. Mitchell, residing in this city, had the misfortune to fall on one of the street crossings a short time since, breaking her arm and otherwise injuring herself.

A lady in this city has been for years most diligently trying to induce her canary to sing, but "Dick" obstinately refused, and within the last week has taken to collecting large quantities of material with evident intentions of future incubation. The singing lessons have been abandoned, and "Dick's" name changed to "Dinah."

UNION TEMPERANCE MEETING.

The exercises were varied and interesting. A lady from Vancouver gave a graphic account of the trial and conviction of one of the citizens of that place caused by strong drink. She was glad that she was a woman and had no part in making laws granting license, deeming that those who make such laws are guilty of compounding with such wrongs, in that they give a toleration of what otherwise would be intolerable. Mr. Watkins said he wished he had a more gifted speech that he might show our tax payers the money side of the question—when we touch men in their pockets, they sometimes would hear what would otherwise be unheeded. One lady said she cared not what would be said at her for her share in the work. She only wished that the same deep feeling she felt could be expressed by all. She had only one desire, the good alone for the whole brotherhood of man. Another lady said that on her way there a man had asked her to pray for him; he was a stranger and had stopped drinking; she could but pray for all such. Mrs. Dr. Thompson read some incidents of the Floral Brigade in Oakland, Cal., among the reddest noses and seediest attire on the day of local option closing with some observations made on our last election day and at other times among our public men. She had not on that day heard one gross or unmanly word uttered, and thought it was so everywhere where there were men to frown on those who bear but the name of man. A committee of 21 gentlemen was appointed to wait on the Mayor and Common Council and urge upon them the duty of consideration in view of their long delay on some matters presented them for consideration.

PEARCY ISLAND DAM.

The workmen engaged in constructing the dam or breakwater on the slough near the head of Pearcy Island have been compelled to abandon the job for the present on account of high water. Those who own the land adjoining the slough are gratified that the melting snows in the Rocky mountains have put an injunction upon the work without bonds from the riparian owners—an injunction which they could not be obtained from the Lower court unless a bond was given in the sum of $4,000. The contractor had driven 15 weighty [illegible] 150 piles before the high water compelled him to stop operations, and we are told that over [illegible] of them have already washed out while [illegible] others are hanging loose at their [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the whole country [illegible] [illegible]

As we understand the current of the Columbia, at the junction of the Willamette, the bars of sand in the mouth of the latter which are proposed to be [illegible] by the contemplated structure are not [illegible] in by the current that [illegible] the slough, but by that which comes down the Columbia, is intercepted by the waters of the Willamette and turned into the Diamond Island on the opposite side of the Willamette from Pearcy's. The extensive deposits of sand where the dredger has heretofore done considerable work demonstrate the correctness of this theory, as if the bars were formed by sand washed down the slough they would be deposited further up the stream.

We have written this much that the attention of the authorities may be directed to the matter, and [illegible] to the city of Portland and the most benefit that can be derived from the appropriation made for that purpose. As the work is at present but little or no good is likely to come of it.

Important to the Sensitive.

Persons with active brains and of a delicate organization should never be subjected to violent purgation or any other treatment calculated to prostrate them. Leeching, cupping, starving and intestinal rasping are of doubtful expediency in any case, but they are almost certain death to the sensitive and fragile. What such persons need is stimulation and the very best invigorant they can take is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. To give depth to tone, to the nerves, the debilitated [illegible] firm the careless, [illegible] despondent [illegible] bring [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] It is true that the bowels require to be relaxed and regulated and the liver controlled, as well as the stomach to be toned and the system strengthened, but let it be borne in mind that the Bitters accomplish these objects gently and surely.

DO YOU HEAR THE WOMEN PRAYING?

[Read before the Women's Prayer League of Portland, May 5th 1874]

Do you hear the women praying oh my brothers
Do you hear what words they say?—
These the free born nation's wives and mothers,
Lowing, [illegible] proudly [illegible] to pray!
Can you coldly look upon their face
Pale sad faces seamed with frequent tears
See their hands uplifted in their places—
Hands that toiled for all your bootless years

Can you see your wives and daughters pleading,
In the dust you spurn beneath your feet
Baring hearts for years in secret bleeding,
To the scorn [illegible] of the street
Can you hear and yet not heed the crying
Of the children [illegible] hunger [illegible]
Born in fear—not love—[illegible] dying
Cursed of God they think but cursed of you instead

Do you hear the women praying oh my brothers
Hear the oft repeated burden of their prayer—
Hear them asking for one boon above all others—
Not for vengeance on the wrongs they have to bear
But imploring [illegible] for [illegible] God forgive them
For they know not what they do
Strike the sin but spare the sinners—save them —
Mammon, oh ye men and brothers you!

For your heels have ground the women's faces
You have coined their blood and tears for gold
Have betrayed their kisses and embraces—
Returned their love with curses twenty fold
Made the wife's crown one of thorns and not of honor
Made her motherhood a pain and dread
Heaped life's toil unrecompensed upon her,
Laid her sons upon her bosom dead!

Do you hear the women praying oh my brothers?
Have you not one word to say
Will you not God be as gentle as these mothers
If you dare to say them nay?
Oh ye men God waits for you to answer
The prayers that to him rise
He waits to know if you are just ere He is—
There your deliverance lies!

Rise and assert the manhood of this nation
Its courage honor might—
Wipe off the dust of our humiliation—
Dare nobly to do right!
Shall women plead from out the dust forever?
Will you not work men if you cannot pray?
Hold up the suppliant hands with your endeavor
And seize the world's salvation while you may!

Yes from the eastern to the western ocean
The sound of prayer is heard
And in our hearts great billows of emotion
At every breath are stirred
From mountain tops of prayer down to sin's valley
The voice of woman sounds the cry Come up!
O men and brothers heed that cry and rally—
Death to the fiend that lurks within the cup!

—Frances Fuller Victor

A "NINETY-THREE" BURLESQUE

Punch is publishing a burlesque of Victor Hugo's "Ninety three" It is entitled "One and three, by Victor Nogo" The following are the introductory chapters

Part the First—All at Sea

BOOK THE SECOND

The Thimble Rigged Vessel off the Needles

I.—THE SHIP

From Kennel, l'Ile des Chiens, issued a bark, which soon turned into a deep bay

This vessel entered at Trinity College under the supervision of the Elder Brethren was in reality a Man-of-War Seen at a distance, she seemed only a Buoy

She had the heavy look of a pacific merchantman, but her destiny was not the Pacific, but the Bellicose Her name was in reality the Bellicose painted under the letters the Ring dove

She was thimble-rigged This deceived the eye There were three masts, capped with three thimbles, and the first mate wore the little P jacket

There was half a regiment of Horse Marines on board in case of necessity

The yards were made in Scotland—the chief being Scotland Yard and the rudder cost two hundred pounds in Southampton This being so, what was the name of the Captain? Not Smith

The Captain was Thomas le Brun The second in command was Le Chevalier Johannes; the first Mate was Lefilsderobin and the Pilot was Robin son fils—a Jersey man. True to his name, he was a man in a jersey

There were basins kettles for fish, tureens and pates de la mer on board

It was evident that the vessel had an unusual business on hand

Indeed a man who has just come on board looked like it but did not appear to feel like it

His face was black he wore high collars, and a white hat with a black band round it The crown was out At that Communist period this was not uncommon The wind blowing open his cloak showed a coat with long tails and large buttons, a dirty white vest, a frilled shirt, check trousers, large shoes, and a banjo

He was conducted on board by Monsieur Guillaume Georges, Governor of l'Ile des Chiens, and M le Prince de la Salle de St Jacques de Piccadilli

The latter addressed the voyager

You swear you will never perform out of St. James Hall?"

"I swear it"

"Good Au revoir Massabones

Massabones was the name by which the crew immediately designated their passenger

Guillaume Georges and M le Prince de la Salle de St Jacques de Piccadilli returned to shore.

The Bellicose, or Ringdove, set sail

One hour afterwards the Man at the Duke of York's Column received the message He has gone. Success is certain"

Four days previous the Prefect at Boulogne-sur mer received this dispatch A man will land, of whom this is the description Black long tailed coat check trousers, banjo Warn the baigneuses Wash the man Find out who he is Execute my orders and him

II —PARLOR CABIN BOARDERS.

The night was dark

There was a moon It was the second night of a new moon The new moon was not a success, therefore it was not full It was but a speck in the sky, and the speck was a failure

Massabones paced the deck

He entered the cabin where sat 'Bobbilot aux Cheveux Blancs, and Heureux pierre au Front-de-Bois

"You are the only two on board who know my name"

"We will not reveal it,"

"Nor will I"

He entered his cabin

III —ABOVE AND BELOW

The two Commanders Thomas le Brun and Chevalier Johannes, walked the deck This is their conversation caught by the shadows

"Who's your hatter?"

"None."

"How's your poor feet?"

Better

Where are we now?"

"All at sea"

What's being played at London?

"La Fille de Madame Angot

What in Paris?"

'La Fille de Madame Angot

What in Brussels?"

La Fille de Madame Angot

No

True It is Giroflé

"Is there no chance?"

"For him

Yes

None

Yet he is a novelty"

In France, yes"

And in France they like novelties

Le Brun burst out laughing

Joannes observed He should try. On the sands first"

"As at Margate—

"And Ramsgate—

"You quote Le Bow——'

"Yes, and Lecocq's

"Bah' Madame Angot again

"True, but his oath——

"Never to perform out of——"

Le Brun had no time to finish his sentence

A desperate cry At the same time a noise as unaccountable as it was awful

From the interior of the vessel

A frightful thing has just happened

IV —[illegible] LEBES [illegible]

One of the pretty kettles of fish had got loose

This, is perhaps, the most formidable of marine accidents

Everything was at sea.

A kettle of fish with steam full up and the lid on, that jumps off the stove in the caboose, becomes suddenly like some supernatural wild beast It pitches with the pitching it lops with the lopping, it rolls with the rolling it dances waltzes polkas mazurkas cannons like a billiard ball rebounds like a racquet ball is partout dans le mauvais it butts like a ram it pops like a weasel it [illegible] like old boots it darts at you like Winkin it dashes [illegible] it comes at you like one o'clock It has the weight of a Tupper's Philosophy the agility of a dancing Quaker the impenetrability of Conservative Premiers [illegible]

of [illegible] beings the rudeness of [illegible] man the tergiversations of an independent member the violence of a Home Ruler, the recklessness of a German Chancellor the stupidity of an unstipendiary Justice of the Peace, the versatility of a journalist and the deafness of a pillar post

You can heard an oyster you can get a chop and potato to follow you can [illegible] to a goose, you can tickle a trout you can drug the wild [illegible] but here is [illegible] resource With a monster kettle of fish let loose

[illegible]

The whole crew was astir The seething boiling [illegible] monster was [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] fingers the heels [illegible] suffer [illegible]

It was the cook's fault He had forgotten to [illegible] the kettle down Now there [illegible] crew [illegible] vengeance

The two commanders stood at the head of the stair afraid to descend

They were pushed aside by the elbows of the mysterious passenger

What is in the fish kettle? he asked

Fish answered Le Brun

What sauce?

Look We have none on board The ship is full of Leeks

Then nothing can save us

Nothing,—except— The second in command paused

Except what?

Stopping the kettle But nothing can be done without him

I have no fin,' said Bobbilot aux Cheveux Blancs

Nor I said the voyager whom the crew called Massabones

Suddenly, into the midst of the arena where the fish kettle leaped and bounded sprang a man The Cook

Behind a mast he waited for the fish kettle

He had dealt with it for years It was his pet monster He seemed to think it would recognize him

He muttered to himself

It is going round like a cook's [illegible]

Then he addressed it as though it loved him and would obey him

"Now then come up' will yer He said

Then a Titanic struggle began The struggle between the Cook and his kettle!

BOOK THE SECOND

V —[illegible] [illegible] PARVO [illegible]

The cook's name was Pott

It was a struggle between Pott and Kettle

All watched in terrified silence

No one spoke to the Man at Wheel

The struggle began

"Kettle began it, muttered LeBrun to himself quoting from the Cricket on the Hearth

This fearful duel between Pott and Kettle was the nearest thing to Cricket on the Hearth that he had yet seen It was Skittles in the Kitchen it was Polo in the Pantry, it was Football in the Larder Thus it chanced that he quoted unconsciously Otherwise it was not a time for quotations

The whole happened in a half light It is not often that you find a whole in a half

The boiling tin kettle against the Cook bold as brass

It was tin against brass Metal against mettle

Come on, can't yer? said the Man

The kettle seemed to listen then with a whisking noise, and spouting forth an overflow of boiling soup it rushed at him

He supple agile adroit glided away out of reach of these lightning like movements

The hissing monster turned and came at him With its spout like a bird's beak It sprang suddenly upon the Cook and pecked him

Keep up your courage said Le Brun from the head of the stairs on the upper deck He could sneer even in the face of danger

The Cook screwed himself noiselessly out of his jacket and slid away The senseless Kettle tore the garment to shreds

Then the Cook rushed at the handle as a Spanish matador will seize a bull by the tail Far safer than acting by the proverb and taking him by the horns Proverbs are not practice Even a wise saw has no wisdom teeth

The handle came off in the man's grasp

For a second the Kettle was puzzled at its loss Then it showed its nails They were not claws they were not talons simply nails With fury redoubled by the indignity it seemed to say Come I've lost my bail I must put an end to this somehow' Then in blind rage hissing and steaming, it rushed upon the defeated Cook

'Give it one in the eye' shouted Commander Johannes from above

The Cook, armed with a spit, attempted to act upon this advice The Kettle had no eye, only a lid This latter he failed to wound The furious monster was on him, and in another moment the doom of the Man would have been sealed

But for the Mysterious Passenger, Massabones on the companion

It flashed across him An Inspiration A memory of his early childhood Kettle sang —he sang Now he sang loudly He sang wisely, but not well

The Kettle paused in its fierce onslaught The Monster seemed to remember the time when it, too, sat on a hob, singing

Clearly the creature was moved Its lid trembled and more than one drop trickled down its sides Taking advantage of this momentary weakness the Cook scrambled on his legs and catching the machine a stupendous kick sent it over, sprawling, on its side spent helpless an inert, inanimate mass Such a feat as this was only possible to one who had been brought up as the son of a Sea Cook It was ended The Man had conquered the Monster The Cow had jumped over the Moon The Pot had conquered the Kettle

The whole Crew hurried down the companion

But the soup was boiled away to nothing

"Sir" said the Cook to the distinguished Passenger, 'I owe you my life And he handed him a paper with three letters on it They were I O U

The old man answered nothing He appeared to be deaf to what was going on around him And more than deaf he was buried in thought

A wonderful thing is steam In an instant the Kettle was securely lashed

"Now' said the dignified Passenger whom the Sailors only knew as Massabones 'the Kettle has been lashed let the Cook be lashed too"

The Ship's Chaplain who throughout the danger had been seated on the mizzen top gallant mizzen reading the Act of Uniformity now descended and prepared the Man for his fate

The Cat with nine tails—the last of its marvellous species—was brought out

Le Brun Johannes, and Robin son fils bowed to the passenger

'You are the General they said and a General always gives orders on board ship

Then said the stately Passenger "pitch him over.'

They pitched him all over

VI —OUT WITH A SAIL IN WITH A [illegible]

The Sea rocked the vessel threateningly

Since she had been on her cradle she had never been so rocked

The damage done by the Kettle of fish was irreparable

The Marquis de Bobbilot spoke to the Man at the Wheel

Where are we now?

"Here replied the Man vaguely

Neither one thing nor the other—such is the Sailor A man is either a bad or good sailor To the former the answer had a depicting significance The motto of the Ocean is rough and ready The sea was ready—it was going to be rough

Ships in the offing Ready to blow the Ringdove out of the water The water ready to sink the Ring

Le Brun cried aloud in his brave merriment, 'Here's a go

New York advices of May [illegible] that money continues a drug in that market and being freely put at [illegible] per cent on call and [illegible] per cent dis count The Bank statements of [illegible] for the week ending the last day of May [illegible] continued easy there having been a net gain of over [illegible] in the reserve Gold remains steady and without [illegible] the continued large drain to Europe which had previously been [illegible] exchange has [illegible]

A Washington dispatch of May [illegible] says

The House Committee on Banking and Currency have been for some time secretly investigating the source from which [illegible] currency first issued [illegible] The Committee were apprised very early in the session through Treasury officials that a large amount of this currency of the first issue [illegible] fresh and new was in circulation and was being constantly presented for redemption The Secret Service department of the Government has been at work on the case for a long time in connection with the Committee and it was finally ascertained that the entire amount had been put in circulation by a very eccentric and wealthy old gentleman who when this first issue of fractional currency was made deposited a large quantity of it in his safe and never has paid it out until recently The secretary at first thought of issuing a circular warning the public against taking it and it was afterward thought that the original plates had been stolen

Tonnage at the East

The supply of ships on the Atlantic coast seems rather in excess of the demand and ship owners in view of better prospects in the Pacific are anxious to send their vessels to the west coast During the week ending May 21st the Charger and Ellen Austin were dispatched for San Francisco The commercial correspondent of the Bulletin writing from New York under the date last mentioned says The ship Herald of the Morning has been chartered to load coal here for Acapulco at $11 coin the ship to pay lighterage of the coal from Newburgh and the ship Reunion from Philadelphia to Acapulco at $11 gold both for account of the Pacific Mail steamship Co The bark Wallace has been chartered hence to Peru with lumber at [illegible] and back with guano at $[illegible] gold Several more charters have been made from the Peruvian guano deposits to Europe Grain freights from New York to Europe, however were reported active and rates to the continent were firmer Seven shillings to 7s 6d has been paid by sailing vessels and 9s 6d to 10s by steam The continental markets are very bare of grain and the scarcity in Russia throws the demand almost wholly in this country Numerous charters have been made from Montreal to the United Kingdom at 5s 6d per quarter and from Philadelphia at [illegible] Foreign grain tonnage continues [illegible]
